

gHello everybody Soph here! Happy Tuesday!! We have a lot to report on so let's get to it! All of you need to remember to check your emails for updates and newspapers like these! I want to thank our queen, Mary, for creating a lore archive! She has been working really hard on it so remember to go into your emails and check that out! You can find close to all information on the site and if you want to know anything about the timeline or our characters just go there and search until your heart's content! Please thank Mary for working so hard on this project!

I also want to thank a very happy birthday our friend, king, dad, and much more, Lee! Happy birthday to the best king in the town of Marybell township! I wish the best birthday wishes to you dad, have an amazing day!

LEE

Another section of huge news, Sal is coming back and better than ever boys!! Our works and efforts to bring the salamander back worked! Everybody, we will have a welcome back ceremony sometime next month for him! He will be teleported back sooner or later! Yippee! Now that we know what it takes to bring our people back to life, this means a lot for our civilization! Word on this is yet to be fulfilled, we will update you next time we get more information!

We are also going into farming season soon! I wish the best of luck to our secretary of agriculture, Arian! Leo, our secretary of labor, is deciding currently who is going to help out with Arian and the crops we have, any crimes committed whether past or current will be given community service hours and will help around the town, whether it be cleaning or farming, hopefully this will teach some of you to calm the hell down with the violence. We do NOT want another situation where someone leads a rebellion and we have to you know.. End their life like another situation that happened.. Anywho, I hope that everybody learns to live in harmony in this post apocalyptic world we are living in (no killing please ^^)

I once again would like to remind you of our law (that isn't really a law but I will punish you myself if I hear this one more time) that you can NOT blast music of ANY type past midnight, it is straight up annoying and I am not sure how much longer I can listen to the whole Heathers Soundtrack before I blow out my brains, please and thank you.

Thank you all SO much for being decent humans recently ( or at least since last newspaper came out ) If I say so myself, the lore is quite literally in its golden era (hehehe LITWTC reference) I am glad to see the community getting along and from what I know you are all welcoming Attica nicely, hope you guys are doing good, see you next Tuesday! Much love- Soph!!
